The greater the potential reward, the higher the risk of an investor losing money. This indicator is based on past data which may change over time and may not be a reliable indication of the Fund's future risk profile. The shaded area below shows the Fund's Risk/Reward ranking.

The Fund is ranked six because it invests in company shares and the fund's simulated and/or realized return has experienced high rises and falls historically. Please note that even the lowest risk rated investments may suffer from severe losses in extreme market circumstances.

- Investing overseas can bring additional returns and spread risk to different markets; however changes in currency rates may cause the value of your investment to decrease.
- Certain holdings could become hard to value or sell at a desired time and price.
- The Fund could lose money if it has concentrated exposure to an issuer or security that suffers from an adverse event.
- Greater fluctuations in the value of the Fund may be experienced through the use of derivatives by one or more of the underlying investments.
- Compared to developed markets, emerging markets can have greater political instability and limited investor rights and freedoms, and their securities can carry higher equity, market, liquidity, credit and currency risk.
- The fund invests in assets that could become less liquid in certain market conditions, which could have a significant impact on the value of these assets.
